

You're numb from the outside
And you are crying out to the brightest star alive
Your skin is trying to burn itself
Bharatlyrics.com
Trying to gauge the pain
To tell the mud from the rain

Been sitting waiting for the signs
Feel just a little trapped inside
So feel low, breathe and flow won't be no more

Show me the way to the gates of dawn
And we'll find a place
You call home

The wind is cold
In my mind its frozen and its numb but is it kind
Takes me a while if ever i may find
My innocence thought i traded it for a moment
Just one moment

Show me the way to the gates of dawn
And we'll find a place
You call home
Colours spin all turn to white
Close your eyes try and touch the night
Each moment pass you by
Save me from this blinding light.
